From the President

2019 is going to be a fantastic year for CREW Charlotte and I couldn't be more excited. We learned through our 2018 survey that there are three basic reasons why people get involved in CREW

Charlotte. First, people want to learn something – whether it is to strengthen them personally or build upon their professional experience. Second, we learned that people want to make a difference by helping others through areas such as student outreach, mentoring and community involvement. Lastly, we learned that our members want more opportunities to meet people – joining movers, shakers and young professionals alike. We listened and got to work to meet the needs of our rapidly growing chapter.

which will guide us for at least three years. Our core purpose as an organization is to “transform the commercial real estate industry by accelerating the advancement of women.” Our very talented leadership team and committees set strategic goals and action items to develop new programs, add more networking opportunities, provide numerous learning occasions and create ways in which members can become more involved.

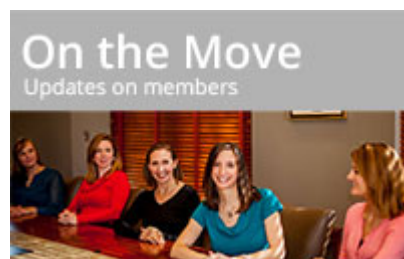

I am proud to be a part of this evolution as an organization and call on all members to find ways to get more involved. Whether you join a committee, attend Casino & Gaming Night (registration is open), or refer business to another CREW member, we encourage you to find ways to optimize your membership. Shawn McMillan, a Diamond sponsor, told us that he believes it adds numerous employee benefits to his professional team. I couldn't agree more. If joining a committee is too much with your busy schedule, then let us know if you would be open to micro-volunteering opportunities. These are very specific volunteering occasions that typically take an hour or less of your time. It is a great way to connect with other members and get to know people.

Finally, a shout out and huge thank you to all our sponsors. Your generosity is fundamental to our continued success. CREW Charlotte's membership totals continue to rise, which makes your sponsorship investment more valuable. The diverse nature of our membership base provides powerful networking opportunities with senior level decision makers and additional chances to establish relationships and gain referrals. Sponsorship broadens recognition of your company, as our average attendance at luncheons is over 180 attendees. Finally, 72% of CREW members have given a referral to another
